

BEAR BROWN

1582 Quarry View, Columbus, OH, 43204 | (678)-983-8132 | bear.brown2211@gmail.com

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Populism, Democratic Theory, Political Behavior, Campaign Rhetoric, Consciousness and Politics

EDUCATION

The Ohio State University

Ph.D., Political Science 2024 (expected)

University of Kentucky

B.A., Political Science (summa cum laude) 2019

AWARDS

William Jennings Bryan Prize (Best Political Theory Paper, OSU, $500) 2020

Distinguished Service by a Graduate Student (OSU, $500) 2021

Hayek Fund for Scholars (Institute for Humane Studies, $500) 2021

1789 Fellowship in American Political Thought and Practice
(American Enterprise Institute, $1,200) 2022

WORK IN PROGRESS

Bear Brown, “Anti-Elitism Against Populism”

Bear Brown, “Average Americans: How Candidate Anti-Elite Rhetoric Reflects Constituent Preferences”

SERVICE

The Ohio State University

Coordinator 2021

Graduate Immersion Conference (GIC) – An annual conference intended to give students from marginalized backgrounds an opportunity to engage with the Political Science Department.

Initiative Leader 2021

OUR People Program— A diversity and recruitment initiative designed to connect underrepresented undergraduates with upper-level mentors and recruit talent from connected programs.

Committee Member and Emcee 2020

Graduate Immersion Conference (GIC)

Committee Member 2020

Ad Hoc Committee to Address Structural Racism – A departmental committee convened to address a letter drafted by graduate students at OSU to address issues of structural injustice in the department in the wake of widespread protests against racial injustice in Summer 2020.